

Text Book Rental System To Be Instituted Here

Olds School Division No. 31 will rent text books to pupils in the schools of the division, commencing September of this year. The plan will apply to all grades, one to twelve. The offer made by the Department of Education to the school boards is such that considerable saving should be experienced by parents.

In grades one to nine, pupils will be supplied with the text of the grade and the necessary work books at a fixed rental for the year. The rental is determined at 20 per cent of the marked price for texts and 60 per cent of the marked price of work books, plus a small charge to cover administrative cost. Texts in senior high school will be rented at rates approximately 22 per cent of the marked price.

The board requests that all pupils enter this plan, or otherwise considerable difficulty will be encountered.

The board is prepared to purchase texts now in pupils' hands at a price of 50 per cent of the marked price. This is the best price that can be done as books can be purchased new at 60 per cent. Books must be those which will be used in the coming year, must be in good condition and free of markings (answers, etc.) throughout. Books will be purchased only from bona fide pupils of the Olds School Division.

Seeks Co-operation In Hail Reports

The above map shows the hail storm that passed through the Sundre — Olds area on June 24th, as reported to the Alberta Hail Studies by the people of this region on their hail reporting cards. Each square represents an individual hail report on a quarter section of land.

The marking of the squares shows the sizes of the hail stones, and the average times of the hail fall is indicated. Average times are used to determine the general direction of storm movements (here south easterly), but exact times are also studied to detect oddities and jumps in the storm.

The hail reports are fairly scattered and there are some definite breaks in the general pattern. Seeing this, we wonder whether there are no people on the land to report the hail, whether the people on the land forgot to report, or whether no hail fell at all. We know from our radar equipment that the storm passed over the general area, but some topographical characteristic of the land, or wind currents may have caused it merely to rain instead of hail.

If anyone in this area has forgotten to send in a report, the Alberta Hail Studies would be very pleased to receive one now. Even if you can't remember the details of the storm, the mere fact that it hailed is important. We are very grateful to those who did report and thank them very much for their co-operation. We hope you can find your hail report on our map.

Guest Editorial

NOBODY KNOWS YET FOR SURE !!!

Hail claims this year are down considerably from last year but are "about average," the Alberta Hail Insurance Board reports.

Whatever connection that has with the hail suppression program in operation in the major belt is completely hidden. There are many people who declare that hail conditions have been considerably worse than usual, and who therefore contend that holding the claims down to average means hail suppression must have been effective. But that is just a supposition.

Whether and to what extent the suppression program works is something that the scientists are trying hard to determine. It will take a long time.

Meanwhile, without scientific authority for the statement, we are firmly of the opinion that it has been of considerable help, especially in the City of Calgary.

True, there has been considerable damage to Calgary gardens. But bearing in mind the number of hail storms, or potential hail storms that have passed over the city, the damage has been relatively small.

But for hail suppression, we believe, the loss would already have been far greater than last year, when the damage to roofs, walls and windows alone exceeded half a million dollars.

It's going to save a lotta dollars for the man who pays the shot to make sure his children get into the higher education bracket. Elsewhere in this issue you'll find a more detailed outline of the plan.

Just For The Record . . .

A construction crew started last week to really tear things apart on the road that leads into town from the main highway. Plans call for a temporary hard base this year and we understand the permanent hard top will be in place next year. There will be a wider road when the job is finished and we hear that the bridge will be widened. To think we should live so long to see this most-needed project underway!

And A Friendly Nod . . .

To the author of the phrase: "An overdose of what we call praise is like ten lumps of sugar in coffee; only a very few people can swallow it."

'Refrigerator Sleep' Valuable In Heart Surgery . . .

Safer heart surgery under refrigerated sleep, or hypothermia, may be made possible by new research findings at the U.S. National Heart Institute, reports Lawrence Galton in the latest issue of Canadian Home Journal.

Already hypothermia is permitting many otherwise impossible heart operations because by lowering body temperature 12 degrees below normal in an ice bath it reduces the needs of most body tissues for blood-borne oxygen allowing the surgeon eight to ten minutes to clamp off blood through the heart's chambers and work inside. However, sometimes heart muscle failure develops, apparently because the heart muscle needs a more continuous supply than other tissues.

In work with laboratory animals injections of strophanthidin, a digitalis-like heart tonic has greatly reduced the incidence of heart muscle failure and the method has been used successfully to date in operations on more than 20 patients.

Writing in the "News About Medicine" column, Mr. Galton reports on a new treatment for cancer of the thyroid. This type of cancer, even when surgery has failed to cure it, can be kept under control for long periods with radio-active iodine, he says.

At a Los Angeles hospital, a program started in 1950 has maintained patients for as long as seven years. In regular check-ups, they take a small dose of radio-active iodine and a sensitive counter is used to determine whether thyroid tissue anywhere in the body which has spread from the original cancer site has soaked up the iodine.

If so radio-iodine cocktails are used to burn out the tumor. Patients shot through with thyroid cancer have become completely well again and small recurrent tumors have been erased as quickly as they appeared. Since the program 85 patients have been treated. While 25 have died, 45 have shown no spread of the disease and are living apparently free from cancer, says the medical writer in Canadian Home Journal; 15 others are living after spreading cancer had been brought under control.

THAT MIDSUMMER MADNESS IS BUSTING OUT ALL OVER

Midsummer madness is sweeping the world over.

In Bristol, England, a Sunday School teacher turned up for her own wedding wearing a bridal gown and carrying a slipper.

Screaming Elvis Presley fans who gathered outside their idol's Memphis, Tenn., home for a glimpse of him suddenly began squirming and wailing even more than usual. The cause of their discomfort was a swarm of honey bees unleashed when a dead tree fell in their midst.

LIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

Paul, the greatest missionary of all times, writing to the Romans states: "Dearly beloved, avow not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath."

Two little boys were busily playing in the sand-pile, when one, carried away with the attack on the castle, pushed it down. In the ensuing scuffle, sand flew into the other boy's face. Words were spoken. And then came the final word: "Just you wait. I'll get even with you!"

Two little boys! Two adults! Two nations! What's the difference? But the words we hear again and again, are the same: "Just you wait. I'll get even with you!"

That is only the beginning. The seed of vengeance has been planted. And as any planted seed, it will germinate and in due time grow. It is only the beginning. One thing will lead to the next. And soon the cloud of enmity and hatred hangs over men. Far too many of the problems and difficulties of our day and age can be traced back to these few, dynamite-filled words: "I'll get even with you!"

The Lord, our Savior, directed Paul to say: "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." Practice the spirit of forgiveness. Yours will be a richer and happier life. And let us always remember that God does not deal with us according to love, grace and mercy. This we do not deserve. But He is ready to forgive us our trespasses for Jesus sake.

Westcott News

(From Our Own Correspondent)

(Intended For Last Week)

The big question asked out this way is, how badly are you hailed, or have you anything left? Yes, we've had it again, several farmers are cleaned out and are plowing the hailed crops under, while others are trying to salvage some for feed. The area, for a large part, was covered with hail to the depth of four inches. During the storm one inch of moisture fell in most parts of the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Johnson and son John, of Veteran, Alberta, stayed for a couple of days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goetjen, before continuing on a holiday to the United States.

(Intended For Last Week)

The grandmothers of Bancroft W.I. held a tea Friday, Aug. 2, at the Richardson home, in honor of the younger members. Mrs. Carrie Swanson and Mrs. Fred Hoskin presided at the tea tables; those serving were Mrs. Bob Thomas, Mrs. Jim McCulloch and Mrs. John Rebeau. Twenty-five ladies and ten children were present.

Mrs. Kate Marsh is a patient in Didsbury hospital and her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson of Port Alberni, B.C., accompanied by Mrs. Alice Richardson, are visiting relatives in the district.

Sixty relatives and friends of the McCulloch family attended a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCulloch on Sunday, August 4th. All the McCulloch family were present, with their families. A former school teacher, Mrs. Emily Walter, who taught six of the McCulloch children, was also in attendance. She was at Jutland school from 1926 to 1931. A buffet lunch was served, after which pictures were taken.

Take a second look . . . get the true picture

There's nothing new about a schoolboy dashing out at the last minute. But that big yellow bus is something new . . . something important to you even though you'll never use it. For this is a district high school bus picking up its morning load of farm children.

Not so long ago, the "little red school house" was the end of education for the majority of these children. Now they ride the yellow bus to high school—and may go on to an agricultural college afterwards.

Parents are encouraging their children to get more education so that when they have taken over the farm they'll have a thorough knowledge of agricultural sciences and business management, both so necessary to the production of good and plentiful crops, on a profitable basis.

The prosperity we all enjoy would be impossible if today's farmers weren't doing such a fine job. But those bright, eager children on the yellow bus, tomorrow's farmers, will make an even greater contribution to this country's progress. They'll be able to do this because they will be trained in newer and better farm practices, including the use of farm machinery which will be "revolutionary" even by today's high standards.

Hello Homemakers:-

Summer's fruits are coming in and now is the time to make use of their fresh goodness. For real cool summer desserts use fresh fruit with cream; on sundae, in fruit shortcakes, or in salads. For fresh fruit salads choose fruit that is firm but ripe and let your imagination create a salad that is attractive and tempting.

Tangy dressings are best on fruit and here are two you'll enjoy:

Mayonnaise

Beat two teaspoons currant jelly with fork, add to one-half cup mayonnaise. Fold in one-half cup heavy cream, whipped.

Fruit French Dressing

Measure into a jar one-quarter cup of lemon juice, one-half cup of salad oil, one-quarter cup of marshino cherry or plum juice, two tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, and one-half teaspoon paprika. Cover tightly, shake well, chill several hours. If desired beat in a small amount of soft cream cheese.

Treat the ladies at your next meeting to a salad. It's a tasty and refreshing lunch and is low in calories for the Calorie Counters.

Add Zip To Next

January's Meals

Those little jars of jam and jelly add sparkle and color to your winter meals, and give you a sense of accomplishment now. To produce a clear, sparkling jelly, tender yet firm with good color and flavor remember this: acid, pectin and sugar are the essentials of a good jelly. Fruits which are rich in both pectin and acid are crabapples, green apples, cranberries, currants, gooseberries, sour plums and grapes.

These fruits will make good jelly without the addition of other fruits or commercial pectin. Fruits low in acid are quince and sweet apples. Fruits low in pectin are sour cherries, rhubarb, raspberries and loganberries. Therefore, a combination of fruits is often needed to make a good jelly (e.g. blueberry or cherry combine with apple or crabapple). If you use commercial pectin follow the manufacturer's instructions. Cook only six to eight cups of juice at a time.

Too much sugar causes the jelly to be soft and too little sugar makes jelly tough. To determine the amount of sugar needed, try the alcohol test for pectin content: measure one tablespoon of fruit juice and one tablespoon alcohol into a cup or dish. Let stand a minute.

Do not taste. If the soft jelly-like mass that is formed is firm and can be picked up in the fingers use one to one and a quarter cups sugar to one cup of juice. If it is all in one piece but can't be picked up use three-quarter cups sugar to one cup of juice.

More about jams and jellies next week homemakers!

JUST TWENTY-ONE

I am just twenty-one and in my prime,

And feel like dancing all the time.

I took my girl for a horse-back ride.

We went down the lane on the shady side.

We then tied the horse up to a tree.

And my sweetheart came and sat upon my knee.

I whispered sweet nothings into her ear.

And said, we will get married before the New Year.

She gave me a hug, and then a big squeeze.

And I felt like I was covered all over with fleas.

The moon went down over yonder hill.

So we went home before we caught a chill.

I kissed her goodnight at her back door.

And promised to love her for ever more.

It felt real good to be in your prime.

And to want to go dancing all the time.

I then woke up with a kick in the seat.

And was told by the wife to turn of the heat.

I felt like an engine run out of steam.

For as you must know, it was only a dream.

WEDDINGS

The Didsbury Evangelical church was the scene of a lovely wedding on July 17th, when Miss Wanda Mae Neufeld, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Neufeld of Didsbury, became the bride of Mr. Wayne Harold Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Miller, also of Didsbury. Rev. A. E. Stickle officiated at the ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Arthur Neufeld of Calgary, the bride was radiant in a floor-length gown of white dotted Swiss tulle over taffeta. The portrait neckline and bouffant skirt featured appliqued daisies and rhinestones. Her finger-tip veil of sem-studded illusion net misted from a jewelled tambourine head-dress. She carried a white Bible, topped with a floral arrangement of white gardenias.

Attending the bride were her two sisters, Mrs. Irma Frances of Calgary and Mrs. Esther Vossler of Edson, and two sisters of the groom, Mrs. Thelma Mente and Miss Winnifred Miller, both of Calgary. The quartet of attendants wore identical fitted gowns of sheer aqua nylon over taffeta and matching white sequined bandeaux. Each carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. Lorne Miller was best man and Messrs. Edgar Neufeld, Clifford Miller and Norman Neufeld, acted as attendants and ushers.

As the bride and groom knelt at the altar, banked with baskets of red and white peonies, Mrs. Zella Peeg sang "A Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied by Miss Helen Swalm at the organ. During the signing of the register Mrs. Peeg sang "O Promise Me."

The bride's mother wore a brown and avocado green patterned dress, topped with a beige duster. She wore avocado green accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. The groom's mother wore a mauve and white patterned dress with a white stole and matching accessories. She chose a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlor for about 100 guests. Rev. Stickle proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom fittingly responded. During the reception Mr. Benny Gillrie sang "Bless This Home."

For travelling the bride chose a powder blue and white fitted dress with matching hat, gloves and shoes. She wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Following a honeymoon to Radium Hot Springs and points in B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Miller will reside in Didsbury.

Notes From D.A.

By Howard J. Fulcher

The hay crop is very light this year, and this will result in a limited supply of feed for the coming winter. As well as a light yield many acres of hay land has been pastured, decreasing the total hay supply further.

This condition is prevalent in the immediate area and also over most of the province. Prices for hay, due to this, will in all likelihood be quite high.

Now is the time to seriously consider your hay supply and if it is low it should be supplemented in some way. Greenfeed can be cut from the oat crop. Indications are that it will be easier to buy grain than hay this coming winter. There are many small areas on many farms which produce good native hay that is never cut. These small areas will help supplement the hay supply if they are cut.

In the fall, straw can be picked up either baled or stacked. Good straw will carry cattle through the winter when adequately supplemented with limited hay and grain quite satisfactorily.

If your roughage supply is short and these different means of increasing it are not available, other arrangements should be made. Purchase of additional supplies can be made but this will likely be expensive. Arrangements might be made to secure straw from farms which have no use for the straw as a livestock feed.

Even if the second cuttings are light, cut them, as some hay is far better than none.

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

President and Mrs. Taylor and family, accompanied by Miss Eby, motored to Edmonton Friday to attend the dedication of the chapel organ at Beulah Home on Friday night. This beautiful electric organ was presented to the home in honor of the long service of 40 years rendered by its superintendent, Mrs. M. A. Finlay. Mrs. Taylor was the organist for the occasion, and many friends came in for the occasion.

Mrs. Vernon Cressman of Kitchener, Ont., has been a weekend guest of Miss Eby. On Saturday evening a number of friends gathered in the latter's apartment to honor Mrs. Cressman. Mrs. Cressman and Miss Eby were supper guests in the Loyal Snyder home Sunday evening, and in the Taylor home Monday noon.

Mr. Arthur Eby and family are on vacation at present and have gone with the Ira Stauffer's to Winfield, B.C. for ten days, where they will visit with Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Dedels, the latter is a sister of Mrs. Eby and Mrs. Stauffer. President Taylor is holding special services in the May City United Missionary Church for the next two weeks, but will be home during the daytime.

New books are being added to the library constantly. The students have sent in over $600 thus far as they work at the project the student council has undertaken for the coming year.

Earl Reimer and David Archer assisted in the church services on Sunday. Earl played the violin and spoke in the evening service. David sang a solo in the morning. Very soon these young men will be in college elsewhere. Earl has returned to Edmonton to work until he returns to Cascade College in September. David is still with the C.P.R. and will leave for Bethel College the beginning of the month.

WEDDINGS

BERSCHT — LUMB

The Redeemer Lutheran Church, Didsbury, was the scene for the marriage of the eldest daughter of Mrs. Emma Lumb, Eileen Francis, to Mr. Arthur John Berscht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Berscht of Elkton, on July 27, at 2:30 p.m. Rev. E. B. Fox officiated.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle. Her gown was waltz-length of white net with inserts of lace over tulle, styled with a slim bodice and matching bolero. Her jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and earring set, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Clifford Berscht was maid of honor, attired in a waltz-length gown of blue lace and net, over a white blouse. Bridesmaids were Margaret Lumb, sister of the bride, and Lorraine Bickley, cousin of the bride, who wore waltz-length gowns in different shades of yellow. Margaret chose bright yellow net over tulle, which had folds of net running around the skirt from the waist to half way down the skirt. Each separated by a tiny row of yellow roses. Lorraine chose a gown of orange yellow net and lace over tulle. To offset the gown, a yellow ribbon ran around the middle of the full skirt; the ribbon was pinned by a bow at the back. The attendants carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Best man was Mr. Howard Berscht. Other attendants of the groom were Mr. Clifford Berscht and Mr. Leonard Wright. Ushers were Mr. George Lumb and Mr. Leonard Wright.

The bride's mother wore a dress of lilac flocked nylon, while the groom's mother chose a turquoise nylon print dress. They wore corsages of pink carnations.

After the bride, preceded by her attendants entered the church to the strains of the "Wedding March," Mrs. H. Goetjen sang "A Wedding Prayer." During the signing of the register she sang "O Promise Me."

Approximately 75 guests attended the reception which followed the ceremony. Mrs. Goetjen sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

After a short honeymoon the happy couple are making their home in Elkton.

THE MOUNTIES : : :

The R.C.M.P. are a smart body of men.

They all have to measure up to five foot ten.

They don't want weaklings tis plain to see.

In the famous police force the R.C.M.P..

They learn to shoot and learn to ride.

And to find the crooks that are trying to hide.

It's no use for the crook to go on the lam.

Because the Mountie always gets his man.

They patrol Canada's vast North Land.

Ready to give the Eskimos a helping hand.

In time of hunger, or in time of strife.

And sometimes in the coming of a new life.

The Mounted Police are friends of everyone.

And seldom have to use their gun. But if they do, they would never be late.

And you could be sure, they will be shooting straight.

They are on duty, both day and night.

And are on hand at all times to stop a fight.

Canada is a country that is gangster free.

And is kept that way by the R.C.M.P.

Our Police Force have never been out on strike.

Because they know what is wrong and what is right.

And we are proud of our police who are of the best.

And they will stand up and meet every test.

My fondest hope is, that I will live to see

My son become one of the famous R.C.M.P.
